THIS MONTH'S COVER

Our May covers depicts two popular traditional symbols for Childrens Day on the fifth of May.

Kintaro, a popular folk hero from Japanese folklore and a symbol of bravery and strength, is the name of the doll pictured in the foreground. It is a custom to display the doll in the hope that boys will become equally the same as Kintaro. Kintaro is also pictured on the giant fish in the background. This large cloth fish is called "Koinobori" which means "Climbing Carp" in Japanese. If there is a boy or boys in the household, a number of these carp-shaped three dimensional flags are flown from a tall pole. Traditionally, the Japanese associate carp with boys because of the strength that carp need to swim upstream against the current. Children's Day is a National holiday and is included in a close string of National holidays which Japanese refer to as "Golden Week" making an opportunity for a nice extended vacation period from work and from school.

Dustin will be representing this zone in the National Pepsi Tournament to be held in Detroit this July. Dustin and 12 other Zama Middle/High School students competed with youth bowlers from all the military bases in Japan and Korea. # OUTDOOR RECREATION'S YEAR OF ADVENTURE

Well, spring has sprung as the old cliché goes. Time to put away the skis and snowboards, heavy coats and thick socks. No more winter gear for some real adventure.

Outdoor Recreation has declared this the Year of Adventure. We have invested a lot in new camping equipment. We have new tents, camping, we have new 10 man tents, gas stoves with ovens built in, cast iron cooking tools, Dutch ovens; we have it all including new equipment.

If you prefer to get off the beaten path, we also have new equipment for you too. We now have light weight two person tents, mountain bikes, jump on one of our mountain bikes and get out and see some of this great country.

As we look to the summer you can expect some great adventure programming from Outdoor Recreation. This summer we have paragliding, surfing, body boarding, deep sea fishing and tons more.

To kick things off, we are offering a 6 night 7 day camping trip to Hakuba, also known as the Japanese Alps. On this trip we will have biking, canyoning, and lots more fun stuff. This trip will go from 21 May to 27 May and promises to be fun and exciting.

If you're not sure what to do this summer or where to go, stop by Outdoor Recreation and let us take you on one of our guided adventures.

We are a full service, customer oriented activity that can help you make hotel reservations, camp ground reservations, get your gear, take the test; let your adventure start at Camp Zama's Outdoor Recreation.

just about anything you need for your camping adventure. If you like the KOA style camping, we have the kitchen sink. That's right, our new camp kitchen tables have a sink in them.

Backpacks, camp pads, mess kits and much more. So pack up one of our light weight backpacks, and we will be mountain biking, canoeing, sea kayaking, camping, canyoning, sky diving, and we will go canoeing, back country hiking, playing on the high ropes course, mountain adventures or let us help you plan your own.

We have maps to anywhere you want to go, train directions, whatever it is you need. Put us to
